HOSPITAL VISITS

Garrison Carida® is part of the 501st Legion, a worldwide Star Wars costuming organization comprised of and operated by Star Wars fans with the permission of Lucasfilm. Our real-world mission is to contribute positively to our communities through volunteer charity work. We are always looking for opportunities to brighten the lives of the less fortunate and to bring awareness to positive causes within our area. That is why our yearly visits to children's hospital across Pennsylvania are so important to Garrison Carida®. Our members deliver many smiles and happiness to each child they get to visit every year. As members in screen quality Star Wars costumes go from room to room, children's faces light up with excitement as the characters have seemingly step off the movie screen into their room handing out toys as a small token to help children remember their visitors from a galaxy far, far away and forget where they are for just a moment. Please feel free to contact us for more information or to schedule a visit.
